January 2008 – OptimumFX is delighted to welcome Samir Shah to the team.

Samir is a Chartered Mechanical Engineer experienced in site operations, project management and process improvement. He has worked in industries ranging from sheet metal to fast moving consumer goods (FMCG).

For the last two years he worked as a Production Team Manager at Britvic Soft Drinks. He has extensive knowledge and experience of implementing process improvement initiatives within the shop floor and management.

He has just completed his foundation phase of the Fellowship in Manufacturing Management at Cranfield University. This is a Postgraduate programme for change agents which looks at lean, six sigma, theory of constraints and financial management combining it with personal effectiveness and people skills.
